Reflecting Together

Kim M. Henning

"New Growth!"

"I pray that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give you a spirit of wisdom and revelation as you come to know him, so that, with the eyes of your heart enlightened, you may know what is the hope to which he has called you..." Ephesians 1:17-18

Beside my computer is a green plant with five stalks that has been with me 12 years. Each Friday I give it a cup of water. Occasionally I'll add some fertilizer. But otherwise, that plant is pretty much on its own.

Back in December I was pouring a cup of water onto that plant when I noticed a new green sprout poking its way through the ground. I was excited. For twelve years nothing much has changed with that plant. Occasionally a new leaf would appear or I'd break off a dying one. But there before my eyes a new stalk was breaking through the soil. It was beautiful to behold.

When Paul wrote a letter to the church years ago, he prayed that 'the eyes of their hearts may be enlightened.' I have been pondering those words, "I pray..... that the eyes of your hearts may be enlightened."

Years ago, someone (Ecclesiastes!) described this world as being a place where there is nothing new under the sun. I suppose for some that is true: "Once a Democrat, always a Democrat"; or "once a Republican, always a Republican" or "Once an unbeliever, always an unbeliever."

Some are convinced that things will never change. Always, they say, we will have violence and kidnappings. Always, they say, people will harbor prejudice, hatred, and anger. Always we will have death and taxes and.....

The church thinks differently. Years ago Paul prayed for that those people in the early church would have the eyes of their hearts enlightened." Paul expected change and enlightenment from those early believers. Isn't that beautiful! Paul's prayer was that they would see what ordinary eyes do not see. Paul's hope was that with eyes of faith they would be hopeful instead of despairing; loving instead of hateful; believing, instead of saying, 'no, no, no.'

For twelve years I watered a plant and saw nothing noticeably new. But then one day, a new green stem pushed through the black soil. It was stunning; it was unexpected; it was beautiful!

In last Sunday's adult study class, we had a wonderful discussion about the virtue of the Christian Church. The church, we agreed, is that community where empathy is grown. In church, we talk and listen and we strive to understand the lives of others. The church is a place where we challenge each other to grow; we challenge each other to forgive and love; we challenge each other to behold God's beauty.

The church is that place where our lives are first broken open by the power of God's Holy Spirit and then we find ourselves caring and loving individuals we thought we could live without. Where else but the church? Have you noticed any green plants sprouting in your lives?

Thoughts from Pastor Colie

When Jesus returned, the crowd welcomed him, for they had been waiting for him. A man named Jairus, who was a synagogue leader, came and fell at Jesus' feet. He pleaded with Jesus to come to his house because his only daughter, a twelve-year-old, was dying.

As Jesus moved forward, he faced smothering crowds. A woman was there who had been bleeding for twelve years. She had spent her entire livelihood on doctors, but no one could heal her. She came up behind him and touched the hem of his clothes, and at once her bleeding stopped.

"Who touched me?" Jesus asked.

When everyone denied it, Peter said, "Master, the crowds are surrounding you and pressing in on you!"

But Jesus said, "Someone touched me. I know that power has gone out from me."

When the woman saw that she couldn't escape notice, she came trembling and fell before Jesus. In front of everyone, she explained why she had touched him and how she had been immediately healed.

"Daughter, your faith has healed you," Jesus said. "Go in peace."

(Luke 8:40-48, Common English Bible)

It doesn't take long into Jesus's ministry of teaching and healing before word begins to spread about him. Claiming God's authority, Jesus healed the sick, fed the hungry, lifted up the poor, spoke up for the oppressed, loved the forgotten, forgave the sinful – and taught that we should use our lives to do the same. Soon, he and the disciples are no longer inconspicuous. Crowds gather everywhere he goes, hoping to catch a word or encouragement or inspiration. High society and common folk alike approach in desperate pleas for help and healing.

The story of the bleeding woman in Luke 8 (also found in Mark 5 and Matthew 9) is one that has always resonated with me. It's a bit mysterious because we don't know for sure what her "bleeding" is, though most scholars agree it was some type of uterine hemorrhaging. I imagine the pain she must have been in, both physical and emotional. She spent years – and all of her money – seeing doctor after doctor, desperately hoping that the next could do something to help her, but no one could. Out of money and out options, she hears about this man, Jesus of Nazareth, who seems to have God on his side. She takes the risk of going to seek him out. In the end, all she has to do is touch the bottom of his robe.

"Daughter," Jesus says to her kindly, "your faith has healed you. Go in peace."

What hurt do you need to be healed from? What pain have you been carrying around inside you? Through faith, we too can reach out to Jesus. And while we may not always be cured – for there are some things we just cannot be cured from in this life – I believe we can find healing.

As a woman, I know that there is particular pain – both physical and spiritual – associated with reproductive choices and infertility, as the woman in the story was suffering from. If this is pain you too are familiar with, know this:

If you became pregnant when you did not want to be, God sees you and loves you. If you always desired a child of your own but it just didn't happen, God sees you and loves you. If you suffered the pain of miscarriage or infertility, God sees you and loves you. If you had to choose the path of abortion, God sees you and loves you. If you chose to be childless and felt that others did not understand your decision, God sees you and loves you. If you wanted to be a parent, but parenting turned out much more trying than you expected, God sees you and loves you. If you suffer from endometriosis or other conditions that cause you pain and embarrassment, God sees you and knows you.

God sees you. God loves you. There is enough healing for us all.

KIDS UCC – Sunday, March 24

Our newest Sunday School project is called KIDS UCC! KIDS UCC is a worship service designed specifically for our children to learn more about worship through direct participation and leadership! These services will take place on the 4th Sunday of every month during the Sunday School time (9:15-10:15 am). The worship will mirror our “regular” services, but with a slower speed and more intentionality to explain the hows and whys of different parts of worship. Our children and youth will serve in leadership roles such as scripture readers, prayer leaders, ushers, greeters, acolytes (candle lighters), and TAC time (Time After Church) hosts. Members of the congregation are always welcome and encouraged to come too!! You can attend this service as a way to support our kids as they grow their faith and their leadership skills.... And you will probably learn more about worship along the way!

COMMUNION EDUCATION CLASSES

In March, we begin this year’s children’s Communion Education classes. We invite you to consider if you would like your child enrolled in them. These classes are often used to prepare children to take their First Communion, but children who have already been taking communion at church are also welcome to come and learning more about what we do in church and why. There is no specific age requirement for this class – it is up to parents to decide what they think is best. This year, we are offering 2 different classroom options: a class for children 6 years and older, and a class for children 5 years and younger.

Not sure if your child is ready? Please call the church or email Pastor Colie (pastorcolie@gmail.com) to find a time to talk about it. I would love to have the conversation with you. Also know that there is more information available in the Sunday School hallway.

Equal Exchange - GOOD News, BAD News, GOOD News!

The GOOD news is that you have been great at purchasing delicious coffee, tea, chocolate, nuts and more these past few months when sales are normally slow.

The BAD news is that the costs to us have gone up on most items, so we need to pass that increase on to you.

The GOOD NEWS is that the price of chocolate bars will stay the same.

AND through your faithful purchases, the farmers providing the products receive a living wage for their hard work, and we can continue supplying and drinking great coffee during TAC Time.

Mission and Outreach (M & O) thank you for your support.

GENERATION G

Generation G (Gen G) will be selling Seroogy Easter candy in the month of March! You will be able to order boxed sets, coffee, bunnies and lambs to fill Easter baskets, to give as gifts or just to enjoy at home! The money raised will go into the Generation G account to help cover sending mail to our college and military youth at Christmas and retreats we go on. The chocolate will be at church Palm Sunday. We will also be hosting our annual Easter Breakfast on Easter Sunday from 9:00-10:15am! Pancakes, scrambled eggs, sausage, milk, juice and coffee will be available.

On our regularly scheduled Wednesday nights, we are meeting in the high school youth room (off the fellowship hall) from 7-8pm. We have been reading and discussing the book of Matthew, chapter by chapter, before ending the evening with prayer. Thank you to our youth who come week after week, the parents who bring and encourage them, and those who pray and support our high school youth. Peace to you, Nicole Herda
